

Carolyn Strauss Speaker Introduction:

Carolyn Strauss is an expert on reinvention, team building, and communication whose programs are designed for individuals and companies who want to increase their agility and their ability to thrive in the current disrupted marketplace.

She is a Certified Speaking Professional, who has spoken to audiences in 14 countries, in fact, she is just back from speaking and playing in South Africa.

She spent 18 years on air at The Home Shopping Network with her own apparel company, the Carolyn Strauss Collection where she sold over $1 Million of product in one day.

*Carolyn is a Certified Reinvention Practitioner,

*a certified “Working Genius” facilitator and *an “Exactly What to Say” certified guide.

Carolyn is the “un-evil, un-stepmother” to a 24 year old working for the Irish National Opera Company in Dublin, and a 27 year old who works in health care. She is mom to the world’s best Golden Retriever, she’s a former New Yorker who now lives in Denver. And she is still the co-host of the very funny podcast, Another Day Above Ground which has been running for more than 4 years.
